

COUNTY AGENTS CONFERENCE IS RESULT BRINGER

Experts Address Kentucky County Agents at Conference Now Being Held in Lexington.

Addresses by Dillon S. Myer, county agent of Franklin county, Ohio, and formerly assistant state leader of county agents in Indiana, and Lucius B. Wilson, of New York, together with discussions by the agents themselves, featured the second day's program of the county agent conference which is in session at the State College of Agriculture at Lexington.

Mr. Myer opened the morning's session with a lecture on "Building a Program of Work," in which he discussed in detail the importance of such a program and outlined the steps to be followed in arranging it. Following his talk the meeting was given over to a general round-table discussion of the subject by the agents.

Following the discussion, Mr. Wilson resumed his talk on "Organization Fundamentals." In this talk, Mr. Wilson paid particular attention to the art of leadership as distinguished from its science and declared that a boy's pig club should regard the raising of pigs as a means of teaching the boys organization rather than organizing the boys to teach them to raise pigs. "When the pig is killed it is a dead pig," said Mr. Wilson. "But the organization goes on. It is the only thing that has a survival value," he added.

Mr. Myer's afternoon talk dealt with "Present Day Farm Bureau Problems" and was followed by a discussion by the agents. Following this talk Mr. Wilson gave his fourth and last one to the agents in which he concluded his remarks on principles of organization.

Last night at 7 o'clock the agents took part in a live stock demonstration at the College of Agriculture.

BABIES HAVE BETTER CHANCE IN OTHER LANDS

Ten Foreign Countries Give Babies a Better Chance Than America, Says Report.

Washington, Jan. 29. — Motherhood is safer in ten of seventeen foreign countries than in the United States, and babies in ten other countries have a better chance of living through their first year, according to the House Commerce Committee's report Friday on the Sheppard-Towner bill to appropriate $1,480,000 for safeguarding the health of mothers and babies.

The report classed the bill as emergency legislation and said there was practically no opposition to it.

The committee found, it said, that maternal and infant mortality in the United States was not decreasing, statistics showing a 15 per cent. increase in deaths from childbirth between 1919 and 1920.

Infants less than one year old are dying from preventable ailments at the rate of 250,000 a year, the report said.

"In rural sections studied, it was ascertained," the report added, "that 80 per cent. of the mothers received no advice or trained care preceding the birth of children."

COURTS WILL BE ASKED TO DECIDE ON MAYSVILLE'S CLASS

Friendly Suit Will Be Prepared at Once Testing Statute Which Placed City of Maysville in the Third Class.

It became known today that arrangements are being made to file suit in the Mason Circuit Court testing the statute passed by the last session of the Kentucky General Assembly placing the city of Maysville in the third class.

There has been much contention and much difference of opinion among the lawyers of Maysville as to which class of cities Maysville is now amongst and it has been decided that the best way to settle the matter is to frame a friendly suit and put the question up to Judge Newell and the Court of Appeals. The election is nearing in which Maysville will select officials for another four year term and those who are likely to be candidates would like to know what they are doing before entering the contest.

Despite the adoption of the state statute by the General Assembly in 1920 placing Maysville in the Third class, city affairs have been conducted along the old plan, the change to the Third class city plan to be made with the new administration and before that new administration is elected everyone would like to know the status of things as viewed by the courts.

It is intimated that there are large corporations dealing with the city which would also like to have the question settled legally before the change is made and these corporations may take a hand in the proposed case. Indications today were that such a friendly suit will be prepared at once and filed in the Mason Circuit Court within a very short time.

After the shooting Saunders asked friends to call police.

DELAY BUILDING IS ADVICE OF EXPERTS

Wait Until Transportation and Labor Conditions Are Settled Says Federal Expert.

Washington, Jan. 29. — Resolutions urging investigation of all alleged combinations in the building industry and punishment for the guilty persons were adopted at the closing session here Friday of the Housing Conference called by the National Council of the Chamber of Commerce.

The conference, attended by elite and industrial leaders from all parts of the country, pledged its full support to "those who are bringing the facts to light."

Home builders were advised to await improved transportation, labor and financial situations in an address by Franklin T. Miller, assistant to the Senate Committee on Reconstruction, before the conference called.

"Wait until transportation is ample, until you can get a full day's work for a full day's pay and until your banker will loan to you at least 60 per cent. of the value of the building at 6 per cent without bonus," Mr. Miller advised.

ORPHANS' BENEFIT AT LOCAL THEATERS SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Washington and Pastime Theaters Will Operate Special Shows On Sunday Afternoon in Benefit of Starving Europeans.

Both the Washington and Pastime theaters will operate special benefit shows Sunday afternoon for the benefit of European Relief. This is in keeping with a movement of all moving picture shows all over the nation and every cent taken in at the theaters will be donated by the theater owners to this special relief fund, all services at the theaters being donated by the employees.

At the Washington the special feature "Fires of Faith" will be shown and in addition there will be a grand concert by the Maysville Boys' Band. A minimum charge of fifty cents will be charged at the door but those attending will be permitted to contribute anything they like to the relief fund.

At the Pastime the feature picture will be "The Adorable Savage" and the minimum price of admission will be twenty-five cents but any sum will be acceptable.

Both pictures are unusually attractive films and aside from the splendid cause, they should attract large crowds. The management of both theaters hope to be able to send to Herbert Hoover and his committee very liberal contributions from the people of Maysville, who have always been most liberal in such worthy causes.

OUR POLICY

And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the County as a whole.

THE PRESIDENT'S RUSSIAN PROGRAM.

There is one thing at least to be said in behalf of the plan of campaign outlined by President Wilson for the rescue of Russia from chaos. It isn't any worse than the programs that have already been given ineffectual trial by his associates in world rehabilitation. And there is this to be said for Mr. Wilson's faith in his principle of procedure—it is an unwavering faith and is held confidently and tenaciously in the face of a world's fear. There are several reasons why interference in Russia lacks feasibility. One is that there is no plan by which interference by force of arms or official diplomacy can be made effective. As that is quite sufficient as argument for hands off, the other reasons can be held in reserve.

Perhaps Mr. Wilson's faith in Russia's self-redemption through the peaceful medium of internal industrial and social revolution in reaction from restiveness to restfulness of spirit while applying her energies to industry instead of war is well placed. It is certainly well held. Guarantee of the allies that Russia's territorial integrity shall be held inviolate pending her rehabilitation is regarded by Mr. Wilson as a necessary predicate to the very possibility of her rehabilitation. Furthermore, he holds that this guarantee will prove incentive and inspiration to an immediate cessation of internal hostilities. Having no invasion to fear, the Soviet armies will demobilize from the battle fields to wheat fields and the fields of industry. The incumbrances and menace being removed, the people will resume normalcy in their various occupations. Chaos will be transformed into order.

It is a consummation devoutly to be wished. Adding this guarantee to his faith in its efficacy Mr. Wilson is ready to arbitrate in Armenia's difficulties and bear a friendly spirit toward Russian readjustment. It is an attitude to be admired as to principle and admonished as to practice. That is to say, it might also be well to have like guarantee that some of those allied associates of ours in war preserve the spirit of our alliance in peace and refrain from exploiting Russian trade resources while properly holding aloof from Russian territorial integrity. That is to say, until such time as all can with good conscience approach the Muscovite bargain counter in one grand center rush, as it were, and no fouling.

RELIGION THE BULWARK OF THE COMMUNITY.

The bulwark of the community is not its stocks, bonds, real estate deeds and money. The bulwark of any community is its religion. Steel boxes to hold papers and the things of gold are mere egg shells; a revolution would break them wide open in a minute. The real security of the little properties we hold in this life is religion because religion is love, hope, civilization and such peace as this world affords.

A brilliant young man asked J. W. Johnson, treasurer of the Great Western Electric Co., for a job and the first thing Johnson inquired, according to Forbes' Magazine, was:

"Do you believe in God?"

"Do you believe in God?"

The young man said no, that he had tried to find God with his intellect and failed.

"You have failed because you tried to find him with your intellect. God is beyond human comprehension. Let me explain.

"A few years ago a comet arrived in the eastern sky. Astronomers told us that it would be visible about a month in advance of its appearance. They told us the day and the hour we could see it. The star was about 90 millions of miles away, moving three thousand miles a minute—moving us fast as from New York to San Francisco in 60 seconds. It remained in sight about a month and then disappeared. After about 80 years of traveling through space it will again become visible to those on earth. Can your mind comprehend a body of such enormous size that it could be seen 90 million miles away and look as if it were standing still, though moving at the rate of three thousand miles a minute?"

"Then think of its going out of sight and remaining out of sight for 80 years. Can you believe in that? How could it go on and on and not bang into something? If your mind will seek to grasp what that means, they go a few steps further and strive to comprehend the power of the Being that created and controlled that one star among the billions."

ARROGANCE CHALLENGES THE REIGN OF LAW.

The attitude of Governor Morrow of Kentucky that "There will be no night riding while I am Governor" is to be commended. Coercion of one class by another in regulation of industry or fixing of price, whether wages or otherwise, is becoming all too common in this land of freedom of conscience and liberty of commerce within limits of law properly enacted and the spirit of the constitution. Closed shops that bar all who do not wear the badge of some ironclad brotherhood or open shops that bar any because of affiliation in fraternal organization, are alike in contravention of American freedom and subversive of fair and open competition in equipment, efficiency and ambition of attainment through applied skill and intelligence.

The principle is the same in agriculture as in the industrials, and indeed in every branch of business endeavor and community effort. It is not for one division of society to dictate to another, nor is it the privilege of the mob to make conditions for the individual. Legal regulations are made and provided by society constitutionally organized and functioning in representative capacity. The will of the majority in popular expression, and by consent of the governed, must be the balance of authority. It is time for a reign of law in substitution for a reign of arrogance. And incidentally it is time for limiting law by intelligent legislation to things that properly fall under legal rather than moral restraint. Also that law be always the majority expression to the end that law be not brought into disrepute.—Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune.

"THE HUSBAND HUNTER" A TALKING PICTURE PRODUCTION

DON'T BE A GLOOMY GUY.

We think it is up to every business man—and who is not a business man in good old America?—to strike a hopeful keynote in his advertising.

We say this to our local men of business, to our farmers, too, and every man who sells what he has, even if all he has is his daily labor.

Because there has been a slump on the price of this, that or the other commodity, it is the poorest reason in the world for talking hard times. Pessimism never won anything. Gloom is a thing of the grave; it is not for the living man with a future before him.

The times may have been bad for a lot of us for some months past, but as everything changes, going from one extreme to the other and striking normalcy in between, we all know that there are good times ahead—and not very far ahead either if we all put the best foot forward and the best smile to the front.

The man who recovers first from the gloom of his bad business, or poor wages, or whatever it was that hit him, is the man who is going to have the most prosperity in the better times that are on the way, that are on their way just as sure as the sun comes up and out of the east every morning. He is going to have the most prosperity because his effort will stretch over a larger period than the fellow who slouches gloomily until the good times are so apparent that they hit him in the nose.

Therefore, we say to the business man who advertises: Put optimism in your ads. To the farmer and other workers, whose tongues are their ads, we say: Talk good times; they're coming and soon.

STILL PROJECTING WITH PEACE TERMS.

The disarmament of Germany is under discussion by the Supreme Council of the League of Nations now assembled in Paris. It is true that Germany was ordered to disarm long ago and that the order has behind it all the power and persuasion of the League of Nations as well as the allies and their potential associate, the United States. It has indeed been testified by some of the expert inspectors of German armament that Germany has disarmed. Yet here we have the matter brought up for official action another of very many times since Germany signed the treaty.

Companion to this disarmament farce is the other question of reparation which is also being buffeted about in a farcical manner of confusing indefiniteness. Certainly these matters should by this time have developed elements furnishing measurements for some standard conclusions. If Germany has not disarmed it should be sent to that she does. No other nation is going to disarm with this international brigand camouflaging an arsenal. That she is to make reparation is determined beyond the peradventure of doubt. The sum is limited only by her ability to pay. That ability should now be set with intelligent estimate.

The quicker the Council says how much Germany must pay and says it with finality the quicker will chaos give way to order in Europe.

BILIOUS CHILDREN

Black-Draught, Long in Successful Use, Praised by an Arkansas Mother, "Soon Does Its Work."

Marmaduke, Ark.—Speaking of Theodor's Black-Draught, which from long use in her household has become regarded as "the family medicine," Mrs. Mary E. Hill, of Route 1, this place, says:

"When the children get bilious, I give them a couple of good doses, and when we have sour stomach, headache, or any liver or stomach trouble, we use Black-Draught. It is an easy laxative, and soon does the work. I certainly think it is one of the best remedies made."

Black-Draught acts on the liver, gently, but positively, and helps it in its important function of throwing out waste materials and poisons from the system. In thousands of households Black-Draught is kept handy for immediate use in time of need. Prompt treatment often is half the battle, and will often prevent slight ills from developing into serious troubles.

Its well-established merit, during more than 70 years of successful use, should convince you of the helpful effects obtainable by taking Black-Draught for liver and stomach disorders. Get a package today, and keep it in your house. See that the package bears the words "Theodor's Black-Draught." NC-141

OLDTIME NEW STARS.

Away back in the year 134 there appeared a bright star about which we know very little, save that its appearance led the Greek philosopher, Hipparchus, to form a catalogue, showing the positions of the bright stars, so that in future it would be an easy matter to identify a new star. This was the beginning of our modern star catalogues, which now register the exact position of every star visible in ordinary telescopes.

The third famous one recorded was by Tycho, in 1572. When first seen it was already brighter than Jupiter, and very soon became as bright as Venus herself, being ever visible by day. Within a week or two it began to fade, but continued visible to the naked eye for full sixteen months before it fully disappeared.

Coming down to more modern times there appeared a new star in the group, or constellation, known as Auriga. This was not a particularly bright one, but instruments, like the spectroscopic, had by this time been invented which made possible the analysis of the star's light, and this was the first nova upon which the new instrument was tried out. A great deal of information was thus obtained, and better methods of investigation for subsequent outbursts were thereby brought to light. — Victoria Colonist.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

New York. — Mrs. Adelaide Johnson, American sculptor, arrived home from Italy the other day, with a seven-ton monument in Carrara marble on the ship with her, commemorative of the victory of woman suffrage in the United States. The creation, which Mrs. Johnson went to Italy for the purpose of cutting, is seven feet high and carried portrait busts of Lucretia Mott, Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Susan B. Anthony. It will be placed on the rotunda of the Capitol in Washington.

It was undoubtedly due to the influence of thrill week, which we have just passed through in this state. At the end of the week, when all the Ben Franklin slogans and officials appeals had had time to sink in James Liston of Brooklyn was arraigned on a charge of assault in the third degree. "It ain't fair," he protested, when he was sentenced to six months in the penitentiary. "I don't want to go there. I want to go to Sing Sing. When you leave the pen, you get nothing." The judge expounded that the charge was not a sufficiently serious one to warrant his being sent to Sing Sing, but that if he wanted to change it to assault in the second degree, and get a five year sentence at Sing Sing, he could be accommodated. He made the change, and Liston will get the ten and the suit as per custom, when he's through.

Ben Welch, playing in "Jimmie," now on the road, is one of the latest and most deserving heroes of Broadway. For it has just been learned that this cheery actor has been stricken blind, incurably blind. And he is going on in his part just the same, singing and dancing with the same spirit that helped to put the show heroes on its opening night. Shortly before it is time for him to go on a fellow actor takes him to the proper stage entrance in the wings. A piece of carpet is placed on the part of the stage where he does his dancing, so that he can tell by the feel of it where to stay and not be in danger of stepping over the footlights. With this much assistance, Ben takes care of the rest. And the audiences never knew until he had proven for several nights his ability to go on. When the blindness first came on, an understudy was taken on, but the other night the actor made an ultimatum to the manager. "I don't want that understudy hanging around. Fire him or I'll get out."

Staten Island threatens to secede from New York city. "They don't care anything about us except just as much as they care about their population," complain the taxpayers and Borough officials, "and we are not going to keep on letting the rest of the city use us as stepping stones to glory. We'll no longer be a stepchild. Treat us better or we'll un-annex ourselves." Parks and transportation and matters of that sort have brought the issue to the rebellion point.

Seventy-five thousand dollars worth of cash and valuables are left annually in clothing sent to the hotel valet in just one big New York hotel, according to its 1920 report. Twenty thousand was in cash last year and approximately $50,000 in jewelry. One forgetful person got back a thousand-dollar bill, which he had left in his evening clothes. From there, the individual forgetfulness tapered down to fifty-cent pieces.

A $250,000 Rembrandt landscape, supposed to have been stolen from a private collector in Hamburg, is being sought in this city. There were reports that it had been smuggled aboard the American lined Mongolia, which arrived the other day, but a thorough search failed to uncover it.

It is impossible for even a club to be liberal on twelve dollars. Consequently the Liberal Club, that haven of discussion and dancing for the extreme of the Greenwich Village radicals, has faded out of existence. Only twelve dollars could be gathered into the treasury, explain the members, and to help the liabilities had reached $4,000. "Due to the capitalistic system," it is difficult to struggle against odds of that kind, especially when there are no capitalists in one's midst. So the club gave up. Among its early members were Floyd Dell, Max

Eastman, Harry Kemp, Eugene O'Neill and other leading literary Socialists of the Washington Square district.

Michel Fokine, who put the Russian ballet on its feet, is to remain in America and establish a native school of dancers. He hopes to establish an all-American ballet and declares that his work over here makes him confident that there are tremendous possibilities in our homegrown Terpsichoreans.

LUCY JEANNE PRICE.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 25.

Editor Daily Ledger: — Sometimes it is the case in the mad rush of life, and the insane pursuit of wealth and honor, that we criminally neglect and forget the very things most conducive to our happiness and welfare as a people and a nation. In every age of the world's history where illiteracy prevailed, crime has been unrestrained, progress practically unknown, life has been lived with a purpose in view, and superstition has ruled the people with an iron hand in place of intelligent legislation.

Since the Civil War the South has been marching steadily towards a higher and better education. At times, it is true, that our progress has not been so rapid as it might have been, but it is encouraging to realize that no real retrograde movement has yet closed the door of the little red school house of the South. The East has long regarded the South as incapable of attaining to that high mental altitude that they so proudly claim as their own inaccessible pedestal of wisdom and learning. But a change has come over the regrettably dreams, and ignorance is no longer confined to the Southland, but is walking like a pestilence on moon-day beneath the shade of old elms that dot the college grounds of New England, as well as beneath the shade of the beautiful Magnolia, of the dewy Blue grass of our native state. Joseph H. Defrees, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce has this say of our public schools: "Conditions in the public schools are contributing to unrest throughout the country. Our short-sighted policy in failing to recognize the dignity of the teaching profession has led to class consciousness, and has left its indelible imprint upon the minds of the young." Mr. Defrees declared that of the 500,000 public school teachers in the United States one hundred thousand was under 21 years of age. "Thirty thousand have no education beyond the eighth grade. Found hundred and eighty thousand, four-fifths of the total, have not had two years of special training. One hundred and fifty thousand no education beyond the third year of high school. Eighteen thousand class rooms stood idle last year through lack of teachers." Taking an average of twenty-five to each class room, means that 450,000 children were denied education altogether. Now, these conditions, according to Mr. Defrees are not confined to any particular locality, and consequently the East like the Athens of old, claims the high distinction of being the seat and source of learning, art and science of our America. It would be interesting to know just what percentage these Eastern states contributed to the retrograde conditions that Mr. Defrees describes.

It has been known for years that the Eastern sweat shops have been emptying the public schools in order that their pockets might be filled by the toll and sweat of the mentally starved innocent childhood. The curse of slavery for years hung like the pall of death before every Southern home that was an advocate of free public schools. Education was dangerous to the institution of slavery, but it was the lack of the free public schools that was highlighting the manhood and womanhood of the great common masses of the South.

Today the dollar policy of the East is doing for the childhood of the poor just what slavery did for the South prior to the Civil War. We are not at all surprised that one hundred thousand teachers are under 21 years of age. When we come to compare the meager salary paid our public school teachers, is it any wonder that hundreds of teachers who have families to support are compelled to seek more remunerative employment. Eighteen thousand empty school houses. Four hundred and fifty thousand children denied education in 1920. Why is this? Because the richest nation of the world insist on paying starvation wages to the public school teacher.

We are paying more today than any other nation of the world for war preparedness, and our schools even in the vaunted East are far below the standard of some of the foreign countries who support a monarchy. The man or woman born beneath the sunny skies of Kentucky has many things to be proud of, and among these is the ever forward march for better public school conditions of our state.

To the public school teachers of our state we owe a debt of gratitude that can only be paid by an increase in their salaries that will at least allow them a living in keeping with their profession. It is due to the untiring efforts of these teachers that Kentucky has ever headed the procession in the onward march for better schools throughout the Southland.

WHY A SEASHELL ROARS.

The sounds we hear in the sea shell are really air waves or sounds made by air waves, because all sounds are produced by air waves.

The reason you can hear these sounds in a sea shell is because the shell is so constructed that it forms a natural sounding box. The wooden part of a guitar, either or violin, is a sounding box. They have the faculty of picking up the sounds and making them stronger. We call them "resonators," because they make the sounds resound. The construction of a sea shell makes an almost perfect resonator. A perfect resonator will pick up sounds which the human ear cannot hear at all and magnify them so that if you hold a resonator to the ear you can hear sounds you could not otherwise hear. Ear trumpets for the deaf are built upon this principle. Sometimes when you, with your ear none, think everything is absolutely quiet you can pick up a sea shell and hear sounds in it. But the sea shell will magnify any sound that reaches it.

It would be possible, of course, to take a sea shell to a place where it would be absolutely quiet and then there would be no sounds.

There are such places, but very few of them. A room can be built which is absolutely soundproof. — Book of Wonders.

TO GO ON FOR DAIRYING INSTEAD OF TOBACCO.

Chenrotton. — Steps looking to the boosting of the dairy business in Carroll county as a money maker, instead of raising tobacco are well under way here. Farmers have been offered the use of space in the local ice plant for storing dairy products and a local railroad agent has promised to send a truck into different parts of the county twice a week to gather up milk and cream. An association of dairymen is being organized.

The Department of Agriculture is about to make experiments in sending market reports to farmers by wireless. The trial service will be confined to counties adjacent to the District of Columbia.

The common barberry is being eradicated through the efforts of the Department of Agriculture which has found that the shrub harbors rust spores during the winter.

COURT OF INQUIRY INTO NIGHT RIDING TAKEN UP TODAY

Investigation supposed to Start Friday Is Postponed Because of Death in the Neighborhood.

Owingsville, Ky., Jan. 29. — The court of inquiry called for an investigation into the incursion of night riders in Bath and Fleming counties Saturday night and Sunday convened here Friday morning, but, on account of the funeral of Alvin Canaan, a prominent citizen of the Bethel neighborhood who died of pneumonia, which made the absence of several witnesses excusable, the taking of testimony was postponed until Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

The inquiry will be presided over by Judge J. L. Epperson, and the examination will be made by County Attorney Daniel W. Doggett and Commonwealth's Attorney W. P. Hamilton, of Mt. Sterling. Ten witnesses have been summoned from Bath county and a number more from Fleming county.

Most of the witnesses are growers and truck operators who were visited by the night riders. Among them is T. S. Robertson, of Bethel, extensive grower of tobacco and wealthy, who was called from his house and was warned by one of the party of nineteen, who stood with his back to him, not to take any more of his tobacco to market, not to plant any tobacco this year and not to rent any of his farms to parties who expected to grow tobacco. Disobedience meant personal violence and destruction of his property by fire, he was told. Thomas Crouch and Jake Boyd, of the same neighborhood, who were warned in like manner also have been summoned.

About fifteen growers in all were visited, the riders continuing their visits until almost daylight Sunday morning. Among the parties visited in Fleming were two men named Shields and Tomlin who operate motor trucks. They were ordered not to haul any more leaf to tobacco markets.

COURT DECIDES AGAINST MEMORIAL IN LEXINGTON. Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 28.—Lexington may not contribute the proceeds of a $75,000 bond issue, voted for the purpose, for the erection of the Kentucky Memorial on the campus of the University of Kentucky.

The Court of Appeals today in an opinion by Judge Clarke, affirmed the judgment of the Fayette Circuit Court in the case of David Barrow against Mayor T. C. Bradley, in which a mandatory injunction, requiring the City Commission to issue the bonds, was refused.

The court said cities are limited in their power by the express authority of their charters, and a municipality has no inherent power to make such investment of public funds. The charter specifically states the kind of buildings cities may erect.

STATE AID PROMISED TO CAMPBELL COUNTY IDLE. Newport, Ky., Jan. 28.—Gov. Edwin P. Mr. Miller was requested to address the bureau, designating the character of employment sought.

OH! MY BACK!

The Expression of Many a Kidney Sufferer in Maysville.

A stubborn backache is cause to suspect kidney trouble. When the kidneys are inflamed and swollen, stooping brings a sharp twinge in the small of the back, that almost takes the breath away. Doan's Kidney Pills relieve sluggish kidneys—relieve aching backs. Ask your neighbors. Here's Maysville proof:

Mrs. H. Jones, 702 East Second street, says: "I well know the value of Doan's Kidney Pills, having used them for disordered kidneys and backache and they cured me of the complaint. My back had been giving me trouble for sometime. There was a dull, nagging pain across the center of my back just over my kidneys. Many a day I had to let my housework go undone as I was feeling so miserable. I had pains in the back of my head and my kidneys weren't acting regularly. As Doan's Kidney Pills had been used in my family successfully I went to Wood & Son's Drug Store and got three boxes. After using them I was all right. I am glad to recommend Doan's.

Price 50 cents, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Jones had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.
